III. Applicants' Reply to the § 101 Rejection of Claims 41-53

Claims 41-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as being directed to non-statutory subject matter. The Examiner's rejection is respectfully traversed.

The Examiner contends that the claimed "machine-readable medium" and corresponding "machine program logic" are directed non-statutory subject matter. Applicants respectfully disagree. Nevertheless, in order to advance prosecution of this application, applicants have amended claims 41-53 to recite "computer-readable medium" and corresponding "program logic" as suggested by the Examiner. No new matter has been added.

Accordingly, applicants submit that claims 41-53, as amended, are directed to statutory subject matter and request that the rejection of claims 41-53 under § 101 be withdrawn.

IV. Applicants' Reply to the § 102 Rejection of Independent Claims 2, 15, 28, and 41

Claims 2, 15, 28, and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by Youman. The Examiner's rejection is respectfully traversed.

Amended independent claims 2, 15, 28, and 41 are directed to a method and systems for allowing a user to access interactive program guide features on a television monitor on which appear a first display and corresponding computer-readable medium. A menu input is received from the user. In response to the menu input, an interactive program guide menu is displayed simultaneously with at least a substantial portion of the first display. The menu displays a plurality of menu choices corresponding to a plurality of display modes of the interactive program guide.

The Examiner contends that Youman discloses every feature of applicants' claimed invention. The Examiner points to different modes of operation of Youman's program guide (i.e., the FLIP, BROWSE, and MENU modes). Applicants agree that Youman discloses a plurality of modes of a program guide. However, applicants' claims patentably improve upon Youman by displaying a menu that displays a plurality of menu choices corresponding to a plurality of display modes, where the menu is displayed simultaneously with at least a substantial portion of a first display. None of the sections of Youman that the Examiner cites to discloses this feature.

For at least the foregoing reason, applicants respectfully request that the § 102 rejection of independent claims 2, 15, 28, and 41 be withdrawn.

V. Applicants' Reply to the § 102 and § 103 Rejections of Dependent Claims 3-14, 16-27, 29-40 and 42-53

Claims 4-12, 14, 16-25, 27, 29-38, 40, 42-51, and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by Youman. Claims 13, 26, 39, and 52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Youman in view of Hendricks.

Applicants have demonstrated above that independent claims 2, 15, 28, and 41 are allowable. Claims 3-14, 16-27, 29-40 and 42-53 each depend from one of claims 2, 15, 28, and 41. Accordingly, applicants submit that dependent claims 3-14, 16-27, 29-40 and 42-53 are allowable for at least the same reason why their corresponding independent claims are allowable.

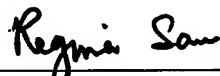

VI. Conclusion

For at least the foregoing reasons, applicants respectfully submit that this application is in condition for allowance.

Accordingly, prompt reconsideration and allowance of this application are respectfully requested.
